quiet, out again comes the Telegraph on the agitated subject of Polygamy, When that peculiar document known to our readers ne the "Manifesto," in which a defense of the doctrine and pratice of polyganty, even to the shedsuitprised four renders by its defitoler and open apposition to the law and it was remarked by Sodom, to what a depth of debase ment bits supposed author, the Editor of the Telegraph, must have sunk, to have sought and accepted on office, requiring subscription to me with binding him air Sich millegience to the constitut field and law of the land, and then, almost ere the warm breath that ewore allegiance had ceased to be felt to turn around and publicly advocate open rebellion to the Government whose decrees his perjured tongue had sworn to and have causaistens

12 Had there been any spot in the rebel catifis heart susceptible to a sense of wrong done, shame would have suffused his countenance when the baseness of his folly was made manifest in the columns of the VEDETTE, and his perfidy exposed to the world. That he is troubled with no such delicacy of feeling or sentiments of honor as a right-minded Fed. eral Officer entertains, has been abundantly manifested in his public writings since his expound, but as if 'twere not sure, he again labors to justify polygamy and establish his own lack of principle, by publicly contending bility of the law that condemns his adulterous course and that of States.

his correct associates. Judging from his own standpoint, he discards the idea of honesty on the partiof the members of Congress who voted the antipolygomic law, and considers pudiated. or professes to consider that Congressmen care nothing at all about the law, further than its mere entry upon the statute book, as a sort of general protest against the customs and usages of Utah. He also insinuates in his areal covert and designing manner, that Congressmen are too prone to immorality themselves, to wish or even desire the putishment of Utonians for the supposed immorality of Polygamy, and, in fact, ridicules the idea of their being "virtually indignant" at any immorality. Certainly a pretty picture to be drawn by a Federal officer. It is, however, candor compels us to say, the only picture a man whose mind is warped with ambition, debased by undignified servility, degraded by last born of a devotion to a polluting doctrine, and withering under the conviction of having broken the oath under which he is still serving as a Government official, could be expected to draw. "Misery likes company," so says in the New York harbor, will be changed the old adage, and it may be that to Fort Wadsworth. the Telegraph editor wisher to console himself with the reflection, even though it be inborn, and indigenous only to the quality of mind that gives it birth, that it he and the institution that made him so are below par, other men and other institutions are not unexceptionable.

Boise Items.

From the Boise City Statesman, of the 7th, we learn that there is a great de mand for dwelling bouses, of moderate s ze, in that northwestern "burg." Families are fleeing from the north to spend the winter in the milder climate of Boise Valley.

The "State of Maine" ledge, in Vol cano District, is reported to be fifteen feet in width, and assays $500 per ton. Rev. H. Hamilton, Methodist, and Rev. S'. M. Fackler, Catholic, officiate every Sabbath at Boise City.

The Statesman says the Boise city market is getting bare of many kinds of staple goods, and the arrivals are light and prices firm. Of flour the supply is equal to present demands, and large quantities are coming. Bacon and hams are scarce, so are oats, and scarcely any offered for sale. Farmers appear to be bolding on for an advance in prices The same is true of potatoes and other kinds of vegetables.

Also, that the following quotations will be found as near as can be the figures at which goods can be bought in the original packages for gold. The kind of currency offered in payment varies the price of goods materially. The following figures would be reduced some by payment in coin, while Boise dust at $16 would raise them. The retail prices range from ten to fifteen per cent. above quotations, Bacon, sides, 55c, and scarce; butter 80c a $1.00; boots and shees, high and supply small; candles, $10 per box; coffee, Rio, 50c. and scarce; Heidsick Champagne, per basket, $35 a $40; Clothing, supply and deman ! fair; sugars, 33 a 40e; tob).cco. $1 25 a $1 50; whisky, $6 a $8, and "supply supposed to be inexbanst-

INDIAN DASH ON FORT CONNOR .- We learn by a private dispatch that the Arr rapaboes made a darb ou Fort Connor on Powder River, on the 6th inst., killing one man and running off a number of the stock belonging to the Post. These Connor so faithfirly, after the severe brashing he gave them on Tongue Mirer, to come in to Fort Laramie, and now. finding that be has left the country. they are again on the rampage. Conmen in that country. If Gen'l. Connor and not taken the precaution to stocked.
Fort Conner, its small garrison would be now victims of the scalping-knives of the "regidles"!!

Irens In BRIEF, It'le said that it costs about $100,000 a bead to kill Apaches Arizona Territory. Beauregard is now superintendent of the New Orleans and Jackson railroad - George Francis Train is making ferocious Feniat speech-M. now adays, The Burnet House in Cineinasti has been purchased by Capt. Silgs Miller for $500,000. He intends putting another story on it. -It is reported that Major-General McCook has reided, to become connected with But. terfield's overland mail route, and that General Prantite Contemplem resigning to accept the position of Superintencat of Holt's factory at Heritority Conn. - It is reported from Mexico that Maxmillian is not disposed andulfil all the expectations of the rebels, from this country, now his Mexico. They are treated simply as emigrants. - Ninetytwo Piece Indignicional by multites. were mustered hater the United States service last Month, by Gen. Muson, and are now reported ready for duty at Marie copa Wells. Two batches of freedmen from the South have lately arrived in California one to work a farm, and the other a mine - A San Francisco or distante requires every one to be vacmile, or a motion to adjourn, the weather is a subject word of the property of the subject of make an item on. Verily, ours is a climate of contrasts. Monday last was a lovely autumn day, genial with the cooling glories of departed Summer which. or some other port. Tuesday was terrific. yea tremendous, in its clouds of dust which tornado like, caused need astate to rule exorbitantly high, from dawn to dusk, carrying everthing before themtt aftenbes venero played with sign boards and store boxes, but not so highly as to justify the statement that boulders flew like builets, that poodle dogs were swept sky-high, or that all the ladies on the streets were compelled to scud before the breeze under bare poles or cast anchor and three not their bows -to the wind, as the Warhoe writers would express it. And yesterday was a entifically worse, with sfeety snowflakes falling flieecily, as if to say to show, but, second-thought, you shall not have it save to sport a couple of and those swaddling sclothes of infant Winter, are now ready made, to suit the boy himself whenever old Boreas' blasts announce bis advent.

LIFERARY ITEMS.-Bayard Taylor is now lecturing in the Missouri River towns. By the way, be has lately published a novel that is tolerably good. Artemus Ward's new volume is advertised as out of press, by Carleton, New York. J. Ross Browne's sketches of life and scenes among the Mormons is promised in the next number fof Harpers' Monthly. The "English capitalists" now visiting the States have ordered two more $25,000 pictures of Rocky Mountain scenery to be painted by the artist Bierstadt Bulty good thing that, for Brother" Bierstadt. When he struck Colorado, a few years ago, he had no idea the trip won'd put such big money in his purse, eventually "Corneilus O'-Dowd," in Blackwood, is said to be Charles Lever, author of "Charley O'-Malley," etc. Stepben Massett ("Jeems Pipes of Pipesville,") is " drifting around" in Minnesota, and intends to float as far south-westerly as Sait Lake City, this winter, to get up serjo comic sketches of this place and people: 1141liam Gilmore Simms, the southern novelist, has quit the Phones, so South Carolina journal.

THE CON OREM PRIZE FIGHT. - Passen gers and a Post extra, which arrived yesterday from Montana, informed the OLB EXEMPRIZE TOME Now that anxious public about that prize fight at Manager Potter ban put up his theater Helenandr bass Chance Flat rest Sun--and a mighty adventure it was, for a day a week. It is briefly this Tohn "gentile" coming here, as be did with Condle Orem (native of Carroll co. out acquaintances or means—it may be Ohio, and 28 years of age.) fought Patsy sid without the Dar of Interestal con- Marley (native of Castlebar, Ireland indiction. What "old man" Potter would and 26 years of age.) ninety-six rounds do to "keep botel," sustain a quartz- after which night and darkness soon set milt or run's daily newspaper ! Verily, in, (old Sol concluding not to stop his course even for the interests of the P. R. ) and the pugilista adjaurged " business' until next morning. It then being found that both of 'em were pretty well "bunged up." Orem the " worser," the $500 were pungled over to Patsy, and no further fighting ensued. The "perquisites" of $12.500. (!) (2500 spectator tickets at $5 each) were divided between ye gladiators, after paying the expenses of police and lumber. A pretty nice thing for the former, and a pretty good joke on the "spectators," who comprised equestrians, pedestrians and "Jebus." Prof. Dimedale, of the Post, deals in glowing language descriptive of the "mill," but space prevents us from giv" ing publicity to the whole. Suffice it to say, that Hugh O'Neil "introduced" the combatants in "well-timed" remarks of crowbar oratory-straight to the point -after which snarty left handers, wicked short digs. optic-sloggers, sinister are the devils that promised General brusers, snuffer trays, dexter sledgebamers, sneezers in the short-timbers. pounders on the conks and in the neighborhood of the knowledge-boxes, were exchanged in rather lively style until the goddess Nighteried Hold! enough?
